In this article, we're going to cover how you can enable self shipping.

 Note: This is only available for Business Plan Users and only for orders placed manually, it's not available for store orders.

Before that, as always, let's first understand what this means.

What is Self shipping?

Self-Shipping essentially gives you the option to use your own courier companies with Printrove. In this case, Printrove will do the printing and the shipping is done through your courier partner.

Why choose Self shipping?

Reasons for Self Shipping: One of the reasons could be that you are already partnered with a particular courier company and you really like their service.

These are the list of courier companies available:

- Amazon easy ship
- Snapdeal
- Flipkart
- FedEx
- Delhivery
- Ekart
- Ecom
- Xpressbees
- Aramex
- Bluedart
- DTDC
- DHL

 You will have to note that you need to create a manual order for self shipping and converting a placed order into a self-shipped order is not possible as there is a self shipping option that needs to be enabled for you in our backend systems.

 Note: There is a difference between manual orders and store orders and self shipping can't be done on store orders.
So basically, Store orders are those orders that are pulled from your respective Shopify or WooCommerce stores, and self-shipping is not applicable to these orders.
For self-shipping orders, you would have to head to the merchant panel and place a manual order.

Sneak Peek into How it Works for you:

There are three scenarios here:

Scenario 1: While placing your order.

You upload the shipping label while you place your order:
