

How to Push, Sync or Save a product?

Understand how you can create and add products to the Printrove Account or your store. This will help you swiftly place manual orders or sync the products with your store to automate the order placing process.

What is the purpose of this feature?

To create a product in the Product Library, you will be given the option to choose from the Sync, Push or Save features. To help you choose correctly, we suggest understanding the purpose of each.

- Save

You can use the Save feature when you wish to simply create a product in the Product Library to place manual orders swiftly or are working with an E-commerce platform without integration. As the name suggests, it will save the product in the Printrove Product Library.

- Push

You can utilise the Push feature, if your Printrove Account is integrated with Shopify or WooCommerce. The feature will help you create and upload products directly on your store, while helping you name the product, set the retail price, edit the description, upload a mockup etc. on your store directly from Printrove.

- Sync

The Sync feature can be useful when you have already created your products on Shopify or WooCommerce stores and need to sync the Printrove products with them to automate the order placing process.

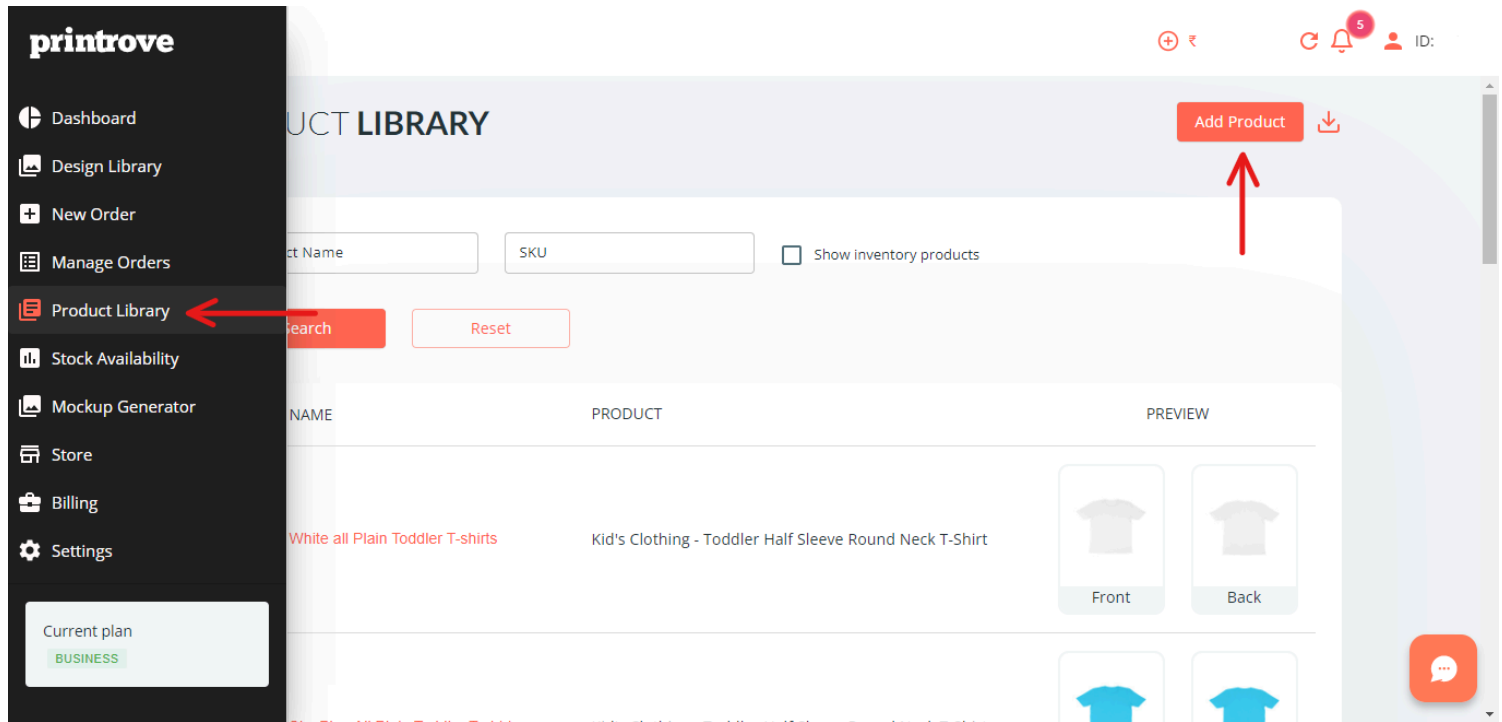

You can now utilise the features according to your need by creating the products in the Product Library.
